

Duke of Edinburgh Valentine's Day Sale

On Monday 13th February 2018, the D of E Club organised a Valentine's Day Sale. They had made and prepared different gifts which could have either been purchased or delivered to a lucky person in the school. The main objective was to raise money for the club's extracurricular activities such as the hikes, as well as give a chance for people to buy something for themselves and/or their loved ones.

The participants of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award had worked continuously for weeks on planning and preparing for their Valentine's Day Sale. They had spent their club time decorating cards, making packages of sweets, and other love-themed products.

The sale aimed to highlight the appreciation of the people closest to you such as your mum, best friend, teacher as well as significant other for all the age groups in the school.

Prices ranged from 50 cents for such items as bookmarks with cute prints to 7 euros, for goods such as baskets with bears and sweets.

The participants had also baked cakes and other delicious sweets which were sold at the same time. It was noticeable that the younger students in our school especially enjoyed these little treats.

On Valentine's Day, 14/02, we had some students from the D of E club to go around the school and deliver all the presents to the recipients. The smiles and joyful laughter of the people when they were given the presents warmed all our hearts and love spread all across the school that day!
